Component: 8.3 Monitoring and Internal School Review Process

This component focuses on the monitoring processes throughout the school and the internal school review processes. Gathering feedback about this component included staff & parent surveys, formal discussions with staff, P & F and school board meetings, parent feedback sessions and written communication in newsletters and on the school website.

Noting of Achievements for Annual Report:
- A large percentage of respondents agree that the school has appropriate monitoring and school self-review processes operative though the year.
- Data collected showed that St. Patrick’s Primary Staff are open to feedback.
- 81% of those surveyed felt that the internal school review processes are effective.
- The school review processes are well managed and efficient.

Noting of Action for Annual Action Plan:
- The school may need to clearly articulate the review processes to the community at various times throughout the year.
- Over the course of 2013 the reasons behind the belief that staff are not open to feedback may need to be determined.
- Items identified in the internal review process as needing improvement, should be well articulated to the wider community.
